DANCING COWS

- a film in the making by local artist & Corangamite Arts member Luis Bayonas.

Luis is a talented man - classical musician, painter, script-writer and film maker he has made movies all over the world - in UK, USA, Spain (his birthplace) Italy, France and in Australia screenwriting for Crawford productions in iconic Australian shows such as Flying Doctors, Homicide, Country Practice, Matlock Police, Division 4 - the list is long.

Now Luis has written a script for a film which is set in Camperdown and environs. It features a few professional actors - the rest are locals including our musicians. Luis's film will also showcase the town featuring our great heritage landscapes and buildings.

The film is already underway and Luis is looking for a modest amount to continue with the project. He has already had offers of assistance from community members -offers of accommodation and photocopying but he needs more for the other modest running costs which the film will incur.

Anyone able to help Luis finance the project, in cash, or in kind, can do so by contacting him on 5594 5327

Wednesday 15th October

This sounds great. Book early!

Weaving Workshop will be held on the 15th October from 10 AM to 4 PM at the Peshurst Volcanic Centre, Peshurst.

The one day workshop conducted by Eileen Alberts from the Winda Mara Aborigine Co-operative will explore the different aspects, techniques and materials between Indigenous and European basket weavers, followed by a practical session.

There will be a small book published on the findings of the day, with photographs of the exhibition pieces and also the work done during the practical session.

Cost is $20 and covers lunch, morning and afternoon tea and all materials.

Bookings are essential as space is limited. Contact Judie Irving on 5592 1915
